Too much scrolling this week?

Same.

Hack & Yap Episode II

For our speakers

Hack & Yap is our grand meetup, an afternoon for curious people who like ideas, internet culture, tech, and conversations that go somewhere unexpected. Episode 1 filled a café in Pasay. Episode II is in Makati, and we'd like you to be one of the speakers.

Saturday, Oct 17, 2026, 1:30 to 6:30 PM, at Zero-Ten Park, Legazpi Village, Makati

We have a mission for you.

Hack & Yap Episode II
Saturday, October 17
Zero-Ten Park, Makati
Around 10 minutes on stage

Hi!

We've been following your stuff for a while and we'd really like to have you speak at Hack & Yap on October 17.

The mission: get up in front of the room for about ten minutes and talk about something you care about. Tech or not tech is fine. The only rule is that it's anti-brainrot, meaning something real you'd rather be doing than scrolling. For example:

- A trip that changed how you think
- A hobby you picked up one weekend that's now kind of taking over your life
- A community you started
- A rabbit hole you went down
- Something you learned about being a person
- Or anything else you can't stop talking about

It doesn't need much prep. If it's something you could talk about for an hour without slides, you're basically ready. Slides are optional.

If you're up for it, just reply to the email, or we can hop on a quick call and figure out the topic together.

Who's in the room

About 50 people at Zero-Ten Park. Most of them work or study in tech, but we're inviting a wider mix this time. A few of them won't know what vibe coding is. The youngest is in second year of college, and the oldest has lived through at least seven Philippine presidents.

40% students

45% working professionals

15% startup founders

Our target mix for Episode II.

> They're just nerds and dreamers pursuing what they're passionate about.
> Shawn, volunteer at Episode 1

> *Grateful to meet people I wouldn't meet at any other event, who I could talk to about literally anything!
>
> Ysa, attendee

> *I've been to uncountable conferences and events. Nowhere else was as fun as this.
>
> Alpha Romer Coma, GitHub Campus Expert

About the talk

You'll have around ten minutes, with a timer where you can see it and two minutes between speakers to switch over. Slides are optional. If you have them, send them ahead or bring your own laptop.

Pick the one thing you want people to leave with. If your topic is technical, start with why you care about it before getting into how it works.

Your afternoon

1:30	Doors open and the first round of pizza
1:45	Speaker check-in and a quick mic and slides test
2:00	Opening, a word from our partners, human bingo
2:25	Slides Party. This is your slot.
3:25	Second round of pizza
3:55	Brilliantly Dumb Hackathon pitches and voting
4:50	Awards. You get your speaker certificate here.
5:00	Group photo, then free time until 6:30

Zero-Ten Park, Legazpi Village, Makati

What you get, what we need

You get

- A speaker pub with your photo and bio, posted before the event
- A speaker certificate and a printed speaker card
- Photos of your talk from our photographer
- Clips and quote reels after the event
- Slots for friends you bring
- First pick of the pizza

We need

- Oct 9: your talk title or a rough topic
- Oct 9: a 2 to 3 line bio and a photo for your pub
- Oct 15: your slides, or a heads-up that you'll bring your own laptop or go without
- Oct 17: be at Zero-Ten Park by 1:45 PM
- The names of any friends you're bringing
